

Two Stanford men file for state representative

Meade files to fill seat left empty by Rep. Ford for Republican Party Stanford resident, David Meade has filed to run for State Representative in the 36th District, which encompasses Lincoln & Garrard Counties.

In filing, Meade said the desire to serve is what lead him to run for this position. "I genuinely want to help the people of Lincoln & Garrard counties. With the redistricting, and my friend, Rep. Danny Ford, no longer serving our area, I believed I should step up and be willing to serve. I grew up in Lincoln County. After my wife and I were married, we moved to Garrard County, and lived there for 7 years. We then moved back to the Stanford area, however, my wife still works in the Garrard County school system. I have many friends and family there, and I love the people of both communities."

"My desire is to represent the conservative views and values of the people of our district and state. I want to hear from the voters about what is important to them, and be their voice in Frankfort," Meade said.

Meade, a graduate of Lincoln County High School, earned a degree in Electrical Engineering Technology, and spent 9 years in the industrial electrical field. He currently resides in Stanford with his wife, Rebecca, and 5 year old son. His roots are firmly planted in the Lincoln/Garrard district.

His mother, Gina (Lawson) Meade, was raised in Moreland and Hustonville, and has a long family history in the area. His father, Don, is originally from Waynesburg and Kings Mountain, with family ties dating back many generations. Meade also has many extended family members who live in Lancaster & Garrard County, as well.

For the past six years, Meade has worked as an auctioneer and realtor with Lincoln Realty and Auction Co. in Stanford, and the Irvin Group in Lancaster. He is a member of the Kentucky Association of Realtors, the National Association of Realtors, and a committee member with the Kentucky Auctioneers Association.

Meade is also active in his community. He serves on the executive board of the Lincoln County Chamber of Commerce, is involved with various charitable organizations and is a former worship leader in his church. Meade and his wife are currently in the process of adopting a child, and are strong advocates for adoption.

He also involves himself internationally as a founding member and director of Mimi's House, a home for abandoned, abused and poverty stricken children in Guatemala.

Buckwheat to challenge former-Lincoln Superintendent Woods in Dem primary

By David Brock

It may take filling out some paperwork in Frankfort to get the name just right on the ballot, but Lincoln County voters won't have any trouble recognizing the moniker 'Buckwheat' when they vote in the May primary.

Former Lincoln County Judge-Executive Ron Gilbert filed Monday as a Democrat to run for the 36th District House of Representatives seat now up for grabs following Lonnie Napier's announcement he won't seek re-election.

"I've been retired the last few years, and I just felt like Lincoln County, and Garrard County, both needed good representation there in Frankfort," Gilbert said on his way back from the state capital Monday.

Gilbert, 68, was elected magistrate three times beginning in the mid-'80s before serving three terms as judge-executive.

The former-Norfolk Southern railroad engineer retired from office in 2009 before the end of his term and handed the reigns to Lincoln's then-coroner Bill Demrow, who subsequently lost to current Judge-Executive Jim Adams.

During his time as judge-executive, Gilbert was a proponent of the successful push to get planning and zoning in the county, as well as the effort to build Cedar Creek Lake, among other initiatives. He said there are several issues he looks forward to tackling when he gets to the state capital, but right now he is more focussed on the bigger picture of the campaign.

Buckwheat Gilbert

"I've been to Frankfort a lot of times and Washington, D.C., a lot of times and I think I've helped take Lincoln County forward," Gilbert said.

The new legislative districts drafted by House Democrats and approved by the governor are still being reviewed by a Franklin County judge after several elected officials filed a lawsuit challenging their constitutionality.

Under the new plan, Lincoln County, which had been part of the 80th District represented by Danny Ford of Rockcastle County for most of Ford's 30 years in Frankfort, would be part of the 36th District that Napier represented for 28 years.

According to Gilbert, he was not swayed by Napier's decision to give up the seat he has held for nearly three decades.

"It's been about 30 years since Lincoln County has had representation from Lincoln County in the State House," Gilbert said. "It's definitely nothing against Rep. Napier or Rep. Ford, but I think I can represent Lincoln and Garrard counties as well as they have over the years."

If no other candidates file by today's 4:30 p.m. deadline, the races for the House seat would pit an aspirant from Garrard against one from Lincoln in both party primaries.

After announcing his decision not to run again, Napier threw his support to current Garrard County Economic Development Director and fellow Republican Nathan Mick, who will be challenged by David Meade of Stanford. Gilbert will face former Lincoln County school superintendent Larry Woods of Lancaster in the Democratic primary.

Judge sends state redistricting plan back to Frankfort

By Michael Broihier

Late Tuesday, Franklin Circuit Court Judge Phillip Shepherd gave Kentucky House Republicans and a lone Democratic senator a reprieve from redistricting plans signed into law by Gov. Steve Beshear in January.

The Republicans argued that House Bill 1, written in the Democrat-controlled General Assembly, was unconstitutional because it divided more counties and precincts than the plan that they had proposed. State Senator Kathy Stein, who currently represents the heart of Lexington had her district moved to the northeastern corner of the state.

In his decision, Shepherd said that the General Assembly had failed in their proposal to redraw the boundaries of Kentucky's 100 House districts and 38 Senate districts to stay within their constitutional mandate to "make full use of the maximal population variation (plus or minus five percent between districts) and divide the fewest number of counties."

Shepherd also said that legislators had played too loose in their interpretation of previous court decisions that give them some flexibility in creating districts of approximately the same size by forwarding a plan where district populations varied by almost ten percent and divided 28 counties into more than one district.

The judge acknowledged that modern complexity was at variance with rules written in the state's 1891 constitution that put a priority on the county as the central unit of government but indicated that balancing the law and modern challenges was a decision better suited for the state Supreme Court.

Commenting on Sen. Stein's case specifically, Shepherd wrote in his decision that the people who elected her and those that she would represent if the House Bill 1 plan was enacted would not be represented by someone they elected for two years.

The judge's decision said that until the house presents a plan in keeping with the state's constitution the Secretary of State must use the existing district plan. Filing for candidacy for the General Assembly and Senate has been extended until Friday and will most likely be extended again.

Judge Phillip Shepherd

Judge Shepherd was in the news recently over his decision directing the Cabinet for Health and Family Services to turn over records of children who were killed or seriously injured while under the cabinet's care. Phillips sided with several newspapers that filed to suit to get access to records under Kentucky's Sunshine laws.

The state has decided to appeal Phillips decision, arguing that those documents should remain secret to protect the identities of those identifying abuse and other family members.

Hafley arraigned over fire

By Michael Broihier

Monday, Troy Hafley, 37, of Hustonville, was arraigned before Judge Bill Oliver in District Court on charges of wanton endangerment and unsworn falsifications to authorities stemming from a Jan. 14 fire at his flower shop.

Hafley was charged with eleven separate counts of first degree wanton endangerment, one each for every fire fighter that responded to the late afternoon blaze at the Hustonville flower and gift shop and one count for endangering the life of a woman who lives next door. In a complaint, Hustonville Police Chief Fred McCoy stated that by intentionally setting fire to his business, Hafley put the fire fighters and neighbor "in substantial danger of death or serious injury."

McCoy's complaint states that neighbors house lies only 15 feet from the fire's point of origin.

The unsworn falsifications mentioned in the complaint stem from McCoy's charge that Hafley made several verbal and one written statement indicating that he had left his business at 2:20 p.m. on the day of the fire and had not returned until after the blaze was reported, but subsequent investigation revealed Hafley could be seen exiting the flower shop on video recorded at a nearby bank after 4 p.m., shortly before the fire was reported.

There is no indication in the court records as to why Hafley was not also charged with arson despite having admitted to starting the fire.

He was freed on a $1,000 cash bond and is scheduled to appear in a preliminary hearing on Feb. 20.

Pleasant View Baptist Church news

By Scena Ann Petrey

Next Sunday will be Baptist Men's Day at Pleasant View. Men will supply the choir, and several men will be giving their testimonies in both early service (9 a.m.) and late service (11 a.m.).

Sunday, Feb. 5 services began with the choir singing a special that featured Sherrie Tarter and her daughter Kallie Bailey. "The power of your love will change me, will strip away my weaknesses." That is so true. Jesus is always there to help us through everything.

Bro. Jerry sang an old song with very special meaning – "The Lighthouse."

Bro. Kyle's message in the series "Proverbs - A Guide to Life" continued with "Wisdom Applied – Poverty and Wealth." He began by saying that we do not understand the deep poverty that many people experience. He told us the startling fact that 25 percent of the world live on that level. Many have only $1.25 or lower for the day. "To be indifferent toward the poor is to be indifferent toward Jesus, who was poor also," stated Bro. Kyle.

God cares about the helpless and poor was the first point in his sermon. The four types of people in the world today (the second point) are the righteous rich, the unrighteous rich, the righteous poor, and the unrighteous poor. The last point of Bro. Kyle's message was that God cares about the heart. He requires us to trust, obey, and live our lives for Him. Rich or poor – we can still serve and love God faithfully.

Sunday evening's service featured Kaitlynn McWhorter singing "I'll Fly Away" to Bluegrass music. As always she did a fantastic job.

"What Is God Like?" was the message for Sunday evening. He is infinite, ered."

Thought for the week: Regardless of how hard Satan tries to thwart the plan of God, God has been, is, and always will be in control and His will, will be done!

The next men's group meeting is Monday, Feb. 13 at 7 p.m. in the fellowship hall. Come out and join us for fellowship and Bible study!

REVIVAL TIME IS HERE AGAIN!! Bro. Kenny Greenway from Highpoint, N.C. will be joining us again this year for our spring revival set for Feb. 26-29. Begin preparing spiritually for revival now and come join us!

Work continues on Brianna's Angel House. If you drive by the Community Outreach Center on Cut-Off Street in Stanford, you will notice the work being done on the house across the street. Brianna's Angel House will be an outreach ministry of the Stanford Church of the Nazarene. For awesome, all knowing, all powerful, all present. Nothing can meet our needs like God can.

We extend sympathy and prayers to the following: Harold Denson and Jerry Brock whose uncle Jimmy Denson passed away in Ohio; Bruce Muse, Joyce Simpson and Paul Hall whose aunt Alvena Henderson passed away; Hester Hardwick and Veda Padgett whose brother Orville Hoseclaw passed away in Ohio.

Congratulations to Byron and Jessica Wall. Their son, Daulton Emerson, was born Friday, Feb. 3 in Lexington. He weighed 9 pounds 11 ounces. His grandparents are Julian and Glenda Wall.

March 31 is the day for the "Operation Inasmuch" one day mission blitz. Be much in prayer as we prepare for this.

A $75 deposit is due by Sunday, Feb. 12 for the children's (graded 3-6) summer camp which will be July 22-25. See Stacy Story for more information.

On Sunday, Feb. 12, there will be an evening of family entertainment and fellowship at the shelter beginning at 6 p.m. An Italian theme potluck dinner with Italian style dish, salad or dessert will be the menu. The church will provide the breadsticks and drinks. The movie, "Courageous" will be shown at 7 p.m. A cast party of those in the Christmas play will follow after the meal. Nursery services will be provided during the movie if needed. Everyone is invited to come and enjoy the fellowship.

Vacation Bible School is scheduled for June 18-22 and the theme is "Aviation Wonders". We are going to need leaders and helpers (crafts, music, recreation and missions). More information will follow.

Thought for the week: "A Bible falling apart belongs to someone who isn't!"

Stanford Nazarene Church news

By Buford Edwards II

Sunday morning, Stanford Church of the Nazarene was blessed by the wonderful worship service and challenged by the Word of God as Bro. Buford brought the message "Kononia". We had 68 in attendance for our morning service, with several returning Sunday night for our evening service as Bro. Andy shared the Word.

Come out Wednesday night for Christian Education Night. The kids meet for Bensons Buddies, Caravan, Junior Youth and Youth classes. Our adult class dubbed, "The Book" Club is currently working through the book of Revelation.

This week we continue our study of Revelation and will be reading from Rev. 12. Read up and join us for Bible study as we continue to discuss "The Passing of the Second Woe" as well as the verse of the week: Rev. 12:2 (KJV) "And she being with child cried, travailing in birth, and pained to be deliv-

Fairview Baptist Church news

By Shelby Lakes

On Sunday, Feb. 5, the theme of Bro. Johnny Baker’s message was the responsibilities of men in the church. He used Exodus 20:3: “Thou shall have no other gods before me.” He said if we live by this verse, we would automatically do the role of men in the church and on the earth. Men have the primary responsibilities in the church and home, he said.

Men are under many pressures in society and face many temptations – alcohol, drugs, and finding easier ways to make money.

Feminization of men is also a problem, he said. The feminist movement says there is no difference in men and women.

Bro. Johnny quoted a Christian that said men without God primarily want beer, babes, and barbeque. Don’t let wants take control; we need to face up to the needs of the Heavenly Father and Jesus Christ. If we make decisions without the Lord, we will be sad and have hardships, and will be setting ourselves and churches up for defeat.

God is always tugging us in the direction he wants us to go. “Let go, and let God,” Bro. Johnny said. He thanked the men who work in the church, and asked others to step up, and listen to God. God’s tug at you won’t be a push, but he invites you to come and serve him. Tugs from God are easy to tell. “They line up with this,” he said, holding up a bible. (End of sermon summary)

Margaret Mink celebrated her birthday. Celebrating their anniversaries were Rona and Frankie Hale, and George and June Callahan.

Highland Methodist Church news

Services at the Highland United Methodist Church on Sunday, Feb. 5, included worship and Holy Communion.

Prayer requests included persons of all ages.

There were requests for a seven or eight month old child, Carter Thompson (seizures), a young lady at the middle school (stage four cancer), Doris Green from Somerset (friend of Violet James), Jo Ann Elliott (surgery), and Dawn Cheetham (minor surgery). Phyllis Young, Heloise Reed and Joe Hutchison were absent due to not feeling well.

Our church family grieves with Beverly Young, Phyllis Young and Eunice Wood due to the loss of one of their sisters, Webbie Denham.

Announcements dealt with the refurbishing of our pews and some outreach projects.

The choir sang, “Thou Art Worthy,” and “Holy, Holy.” Before partaking of communion they sang, “Jesus, Name Above All Names,” and “Behold the Lamb.”

Communion servers were Michael Clem and Tyler McGuffey.

The meditation thoughts came from Matthew 11:28.

Jesus gives us a divine invitation to come unto Him. The invitation is for salvation, rest, learning, remembrance and so much more. Jesus told His disciples He would celebrate again in His Father’s house. As Christians we are also invited to that banquet.

After worship the choir practiced songs for the Easter service and enjoyed a fellowship soup-er-bowl lunch.

Next Sunday there will be an announcement relating to where and when we will celebrate, as a church family, Valentine’s Day.

There will again be choir practice Sunday, and we welcome anyone who wishes to join the singing. Many of us receive inspiration during these practices.

Come worship and fellowship with us at 10 and 11 a.m. on Sundays and on Wednesday nights for choir practice at 6:30 p.m.

News from Ottenheim area

Rev. Peter Joseph of St. Sylvester was honored at a luncheon after Sunday’s service for his 35th birthday on Feb. 5. May he have many more.

I can’t name all the visitors who attended the baptism of Sophia Ruth (daughter of Grace and Stephen Schuler) on Sunday. It was a joyous occasion and it was good to see the church full.

Some of us really hate to see Food Lion gone, but maybe we’ll get another good company store in its place. It takes another place of employment from the area.

The little frogs have begun to chirp or whatever they do. It seems awfully early for them to be out, but I guess they are enjoying the warmer weather.

We hope Edith Zwahlen is feeling better after having undergone surgery. Edith, we hop you are on the mend and you’ll continue to be in our thoughts and prayers.

We wish you, Betty L. Osterman, will get to feeling better, maybe once the sun shines more things will be brighter for everyone. Seems everyone is complaining of more aches and plains during the damp weather.

Matthew and Timothy Sneed were in Ohio recently to see their grandmother, Mary Sneed, who is in a care center. They reported she seemed to be in good spirits.

Anyone having some news can call me at 365-7414.

May the following people have a good year and enjoy better health: Ronnie Miracle, Toby Brown, Virginia Doss, Alma Saylor, and Herbie and Classie Goetz. You are missed being seen out and about, this includes anyone else I do not know about. May God be with you always.

Kenneth Baker from Jessamine County was passing through Stanford Tuesday with four bales of tobacco that was rejected by Philip-Morris buyers in Danville. One bale's moisture content was a little high and the others were too green. "It's all corporate now," Baker said. "It's all a game." He estimates that he makes the same amount of money today as he did 20 years ago. Baker grows 24,000 lbs of tobacco and will continue to try and sell his crop, this time to a buyer that he hopes won't be so picky.

Tuesday night, the Hustonville City Council heard proposals from Assistant Chief Cory Kitchen on a variety of proposals on upgrading the city's firefighting equipment, none of them cheap. After distributing a list of proposed equipment upgrades he asked Mayor Cecil Maddox, "Do you need some Tums?"

Kitchen's proposals ranged from buying a new or used engine to replace the city's aging Ford to purchasing a thermal imaging camera to detect hidden fires or find downed firefighters or victims. "A thermal imaging camera is a high dollar item, but if it finds a fire or a downed person it has paid for itself," Kitchen told council members.

The council discussed the relative benefits of buying a new engine over a used one. Kitchen said that a new engine that filled the city's needs would cost at least $190,000 but recommended against it saying that he didn't want the city to be "truck poor" meaning they'd have a great fire engine but have no money for anything else. "People get tired of fundraising. You can only sell so many fish or spaghetti dinners," Kitchen said.

Instead, Kitchen recommended looking at used engines and said that a volunteer had already driven a used truck from a dealer in Alabama that was for sale for $89,000. Kitchen said that the 1996 engine would retain most of its value after another ten years of service.

In other business, under the guidance of City Attorney Carol Hill the council voted to amend the minutes of meetings from July, November and December to include explanations as to why they had gone into executive session. Hill explained to the council the Kentucky Open Meeting laws that applied to meetings outside of public view.

The council also discussed changes to the city's half-century old nuisance ordinance as it applied to property owners not cutting their grass. Maddox said that every year he receives many complaints about property owners allowing their grass to grow out of control. Maddox said he and another council member went to a Huston Pointe property where Johnson grass had grown four to five tall.

Councilman Mark Spivey said that he would contact the Kentucky League of Cities to obtain examples of other cities that enacted nuisance ordinances addressing the problem, specifically cities that had adjoining residential and agricultural properties.

Patriots upset state-ranked Warriors 63-59

By Nancy Leedy

Lincoln boys coach Jeff Jackson dished out high praise for his team's complete-game effort as the Patriots downed No. 11 Southwestern 63-59 Tuesday in the J.C. Eddleman Gymnasium.

"We played for 32 minutes tonight and I thought we were very effective," Jackson said. "We had talked to them about a couple games early in the year that we had an opportunity to win and let get away. Tonight we didn't let it get away. I thought we defended well and we rebounded. We got loose balls, and I think we were 19 out of 23 from the free throw line in the second half. I am real, real proud of them."

Lincoln (16-11) led for most of the night against the 12th Region's top-ranked team and used that "19 out of 23" second-half stint at the charity stripe to cement the win. The Patriots, who were 20-for-28 overall at the line, sunk the Warriors in the final 2:03 by making 13 out of 14 free throw tosses.

"The first half we were 1-for-5 from the free throw line so we talked about that at halftime," said Jackson. "We missed in the first half, but we stepped up and made our free throws in the second half when it counted."

Lincoln didn't need free throws to keep on top of Southwestern early. Carl-Lewis Cummins, who had 14 points in the win, nailed a Southwestern (20-7) evened the score at 6-all off a Cody Epperson 3-pointer and an Adam Isaacs foul shot but Trent Edgington hit from 3-points out before the end of the first to put Lincoln back on top 9-6.

Edgington made it 12-8 early in the second quarter with the second of his four treys for the night, but Isaacs would answer with his own 3-pointer and Rob Lewis would score from the paint for Southwestern's first lead of the night, 13-12.

Edgington, who led the Patriots with 20 points and seven steals, hit again from 3-point range to regain the lead, Kody Cornelius followed with a putback and Cummins stepped behind the arc for three and a 20-16 edge.

Southwestern used a 5-0 run to ease back on top, with

Lincoln puts away Mercer early

By Nancy Leedy

HARRODSBURG - The Lincoln County boys sprinted out to a comfortable 30-10 half-time lead and led by as many as 35 points in cruising to a 61-40 win over host Mercer County Friday night.

After being down a quick 3-2, the Patriots put the Titans on their backs with a 28-7 run and never looked back. The Lincoln defense imposed its will in the first three periods, holding Mercer to eight percent shooting (3-for-37) and forcing 18 turnovers en route to the win.

"I thought the first half our defense was really, really good," Lincoln coach Jeff Jackson said. "We moved the ball well. Our press was good. We played well and it was a good win. That's what we were hoping for."

Mercer coach Brian Britt, whose team was hot off a 60-55 win over Burgin on Thursday, did not get what he was hoping for.

"No. I thought we played a great game (Thursday). It was very intense. We got after it the whole game, and then we come in tonight and we weren't as aggressive. We didn't play with as much energy, and it showed," said Britt. "Lincoln beating us to balls and us not boxing out, us not moving our feet on defense. And we were just a step slow all night long."

Mercer's Jordan Duncan answered Luke Hill's opening bucket with a 3-point goal for Lady Patriots complete sweep of Garrard

Lincoln girls open with big run; put away Lady Lions 62-49

By Nancy Leedy

The Lincoln girls had to stave off several Lady Lion runs to collect a 62-49 win over visiting Garrard County Tuesday night.

In their first 45th District meeting Jan. 6 in Lancaster, Garrard used a strong second-half rally to whittle away at a 14-point deficit only to fall 49-46 to Lincoln.

The Lady Lions would not pose the same threat in Tuesday's rematch at Lincoln. While Garrard did make runs on Lincoln, the Lady Patriots quickly rebuilt double-digit leads to remain unbeaten in district play.

Lincoln (17-8, 5-0 district) led by as many as 13 points in the first quarter, however, a 20-9 Garrard run had the Lady Patriots clinging to a two-point lead late in the half. But Garrard never got any closer. Lincoln led by as many as 17 points in the second half before notching the win.

"It's a district ballgame so you know it's going to be tough," Lincoln coach Cassandra McWhorter said.

"You know they are going to come out ready to play. You know that they are going to come out and give you their best shot. They're going to be ready. They're going to hit shots. They made big runs. I was just proud of our girls the way they responded. Every time they started to make a run our girls didn't let down. They kept fighting and we responded and answered back."

Lincoln never trailed in the game with Tiandra Hocker, a freshman getting her first varsity start at center, opening the game with a jumper, Ciara Saylor following with a 3-pointer and Emily Fox sinking two free throws for a 7-0 start.

"We went with Tiandra in the starting lineup because Kourtney's (Belcher) back is still not at 100 percent, and having her up on the top of the press was very effective," said McWhorter. "(She was) kind of an intimidating factor because she's athletic and long and she got a lot of deflections, and we were able to get

Mercer upsets Lincoln girls

By Mike Marsee

HARRODSBURG - As a former point guard, Cassandra McWhorter could see what Mercer County's defense was doing to her team. As a coach, she couldn't do much about it.

The Lincoln County girls turned the ball over 29 times and fell 49-45 to Mercer on Friday night in a matchup of two of the top contenders for the 12th Region title.

The Lady Patriots struggled throughout the night to work through Mercer's half-court defense, though McWhorter said it isn't the first good defense they've faced this season.

"We've seen very tough defenses this year with a lot of teams we've played. ... It's not something we haven't seen before," the Lincoln coach said. "I was very surprised with a lot of our turnovers, just a lack of security with the ball and making possessions matter. It's frustrating as a coach to sit over there and you can't do anything about it - especially as a point guard."

Mercer (19-5) won a close but haphazard game in which the lead changed hands eight times and the two teams combined for 50 turnovers. Lincoln (16-8) committed the majority of those turnovers as it lost to a 12th Region team for the first time this season and lost to Mercer for the first time in six years.

"It's not how you want to come out and play, but give Mercer credit. They're a good team, well coached, and we just got outplayed tonight — and outworked," McWhorter said.

The Lady Patriots lost despite shooting 46 percent from the field and holding the Titans to just 26 percent.

Lincoln had seven more field goals than Mercer, but the Titans did a better job of attacking the basket and getting to the free throw line. They hit 21 of 29 free throws, while the Lady Pats were 2-for-4 at the line.

"We cut our turnovers in half and get to the free throw line more, and I think it's a different ballgame," McWhorter said.

Emily Fox led Lincoln with 20 points and eight rebounds, but she did much of her damage in the first half. She was 4-for-5 from 3-point range in the first two periods, with three 3s in the first 2-1/2 minutes of the second quarter, but she didn't attempt a shot outside the arc after halftime.

"We could recover on the rest when we kind of stopped her shooting," Mercer forward Savannah Taylor said. "I told (guards) Cawood (Dedman) and Catheryne (Claunch), 'You think you're up on her close enough, get closer, because she's going to shoot it.'"

No other Lincoln player scored more than six points, and the Lady Patriots had only six assists.

Mercer went 12-for-14 at the line in the second half, including 8-for-9 in the fourth quarter. Catheryne Claunch hit all eight of her free throws and scored 14 points, and Taylor was 8-for-11.

Claunch and Carli Souder combined to go 5-for-6 on three straight Mercer possessions to give the Titans a 47-41 lead with 42 seconds remaining after Lincoln had pulled within one point. Between the foul shots, the Lady Patriots turned the ball over twice.

Lincoln made one last run, trimming the margin to two with 16 seconds left on a put-back by Chansler Gilbert and a steal and layup by Sydney Harris. But Taylor hit two free throws at :08, and the Lady Patriots committed one last turnover on their final possession.

"Credit Mercer's defense, they got up in us and got after us hard," McWhorter said. "We didn't settle in and never really got into what we wanted to do. A lot of times we struggled to get it past half-court to get into what we wanted to do."

Lincoln's largest lead was two points, and its last lead came when Fox scored off a pass from Rachel Spangler with 6:23 left in the third quarter.

Mercer took the lead for good at 26-25 with 5:45 to play in the third period on a jumper by Tabby Shewmaker, and a steal by Dedman less than a minute later led to a Taylor layup that gave the Titans a 30-25 lead that equaled the largest by either team.

This was Mercer's first win over Lincoln since the 2005-06 season, the last before the Mercer-Harrodsburg merger, and the current Titans' first win over the current Lady Patriots either in high school or in middle school.

"I told our girls before the game that this is just another game on our schedule," Mercer coach Chris Souder said. "I had people all day say, 'Man, you've got a big game today.' In my opinion, there's not any big games until March. This is just another game."

Taylor, who led Mercer with 20 points and 11 rebounds, disagreed.

"I know what he says, and I always listen to him, but to me this was a big game," she said. "I would've felt awful if we would've lost. To win and know that we can beat them and know that we are the better team just feels amazing. It boosts our confidence so much."

McWhorter said the Lady Patriots will try to learn from the mistakes they made in this game.

"We try to look at our game film, whatever game film it is. Especially being a region game, we'll look at this film and pinpoint some things we didn't do so well and (will) try to get better at come tourna-

Mercer's only lead of the game, 3-2, less than two minutes in. However, the Duncan trey would be the only Titan shot to fall in the first half as Lincoln held Mercer 1-for-20 shooting from the field.

Meanwhile, Lincoln was starting to pull away, beginning with a 10-1 run to end the first quarter. Carl-Lewis Cummins opened the run with a putback, Trent Edgington nailed a 3-pointer and Timmy Taylor took a turnover coast-to-coast before Cummins capped the run with his own trey to make it 12-4.

The Titans' offense hit the deep freeze in the second quarter, missing 12 straight shots. Mercer's six second-quarter points all came at the line, with Russell Sims sinking four foul shots and Will Hager, two. Overall, Mercer was at 10-for-50 from the field, 22-for-27 from the foul line.

Britt said Mercer's lackluster effort was uncharacteristic of his team.

"It was. That's one thing that Coach Jackson said before the game is that, 'Man, you guys play hard, you play aggressive and I'm trying to get my guys to play like that.' Tonight we didn't," he said. "I'm not sure if it was the excitement of last night or the physicality of the game last night but, either way, we still have to remain mentally tough and be able to put two games like that back-to-back regardless."

Mercer couldn't connect from the field, and the Titans couldn't stop the Patriots. Lincoln stroked the nets for another 18 points in the second quarter to build a 30-10 halftime cushion. Hill, Edgington, Taylor, Cummins and Kody Cornelius all had a hand in Lincoln's second-quarter scoring and were the team's leading scorers for the night. Hill led Lincoln with 13 points and had four blocked shots, Edgington had 11 points, with six assists and five steals, Taylor had nine points, with four assists and four steals, Cornelius contributed nine points, and Cummins had eight points, with three steals and a team-high seven rebounds.

Lincoln outscored Mercer 19-9 in the third to open up a 49-19 advantage. Edgington, Taylor and Jacob Conway each hit a 3-pointer for Lincoln in the period and Hill and Cornelius both converted on three-point plays.

Lincoln posted its biggest lead of the game, 35 points, midway of the fourth. Cornelius hit back-to-back buckets, Jordan Walls drained a 3-pointer and Pittman followed with a three-point play to make

Lewis sinking two foul shots and David Kapinga making one free throw before Daulton Marlow hit for two and a 21-20 margin. Edgington and Cornelius scored late in the half to keep Lincoln on top but Kapinga, who had a game-high 21 points, went inside for a bucket and Marlow drained a 3-pointer to put Southwestern up 26-24 at the break.

“I knew they weren’t going to make it easy,” said Jackson. “They’re a good basketball team. They’ve got great athletes and they’re very, very well coached.”

Things didn’t get any easier in the third quarter.

Kapinga drove the lane for a bucket to open the second half and give the Warriors their biggest lead of the game, 28-24. Southwestern forfeited its lead as Hill, who had 14 points and seven rebounds, scored two buckets in the paint and Edgington hit from 3-point land to edge Lincoln back up 31-30. But Isaiah Collier got a putback to nose Southwestern back on top 32-31.

Lincoln built a 37-33 lead off a Hill three-point play and free throw toss but the game was knotted at 37 late with Southwestern’s Justin Epperson sinking two free throws and Kapinga driving inside for a basket.

The Patriots went on top to stay before the end of the third quarter, with Cummins scoring off a Timmy Taylor assist to make it 39-37.

Taylor hit a 3-pointer early in the fourth quarter off a Ward pass and Ward, who finished with eight points and seven rebounds, was good for two free throws and a bucket as the Patriots opened up a 50-43 lead midway of the period.

Jackson credited Ward, who was honored along with Edgington in the Senior Night pre-game program, for having a standout game.

“Micah may have played his best game of the year tonight especially in the second half,” said Jackson. “His decisions were excellent. He attacked the rim when he needed to. He was active. He made a great pass to Timmy for a 3. Real proud.”

Collier hit inside and Kapinga converted on a three-point play to get the Warriors within two points, 50-48, before the Patriots set in for their 15-for-16 finish at the foul line.

Lincoln led by as many as eight points late in the game but a Collier trey and two 3-pointers by Kapinga, including one at the buzzer, put the final margin at 63-59.

Lincoln finished at 35 percent shooting from the field (18-for-52) and Southwestern was at 38 percent (20-for-53). The Warriors were 13 of 18 at the foul line.

Southwestern dominated on the glass 34-21 led by Lewis with nine rebounds.

some easy baskets. And that’s what we like to do early in the game to get us going. I thought we did that tonight.”

Devin Conley interrupted Lincoln’s early run with a jumper but the Lady Patriots scored the next eight points. Sydney Harris hit back-to-back buckets and Fox and Rachel Spangler both scored off turnovers to give Lincoln a 15-2 lead.

Ryan Cain scored a bucket with 2:10 to go in the first to set off a 10-2 Garrard run. Kelly Smith had two baskets and a free throw in the run to make it 19-11 at the end of one, then Cain opened the second quarter with a 3-pointer to get the Lady Lions within 19-14.

The Lady Pat lead was back at 10 with 5:43 to go in the half as Harris, who had 13 points and five rebounds, converted on a three-point play and Spencer Sims scored off a Chansler Gilbert assist to make it 26-16.

The double-digit lead was short-lived with Conley, who finished with 10 points, draining a triple to jump start a 10-2 scoring run. Victoria Floyd also cashed in from behind the arc then added two free throws and Smith went inside for two and a 28-26 margin.

Lincoln widened the gap before the break. Saylor nailed a 3-pointer, Sims and Hocker both scored inside then Saylor got a steal and the layup for a 37-30 halftime lead.

Saylor, who finished with 11 points, kept the Lady Patriots rolling on in the third, igniting a 9-0 run with a quarter-opening 3-pointer.

“I’ve told her all year, ‘You’ve got beautiful shots. You knock it down. It’s got beautiful rotation,’” said McWhorter of Saylor’s strong effort. “She hit some big shots. She hit a big shot over at Garrard to kind of give us momentum to pull that game out. She came out tonight really looking to score. I was pleased to see her do that and have success.”

Fox, who led Lincoln with a game-high 20 points, followed the Saylor trey with a basket, Spangler scored on a putback and Harris scored off an inbounds pass from Fox to cushion Lincoln’s lead to 46-30.

When asked what magical words she spoke which inspired Lincoln’s fast start in the third, McWhorter simply shrugged her shoulders.

“Just ‘Let’s go and get it in gear. You’re on your home floor and come out defensively and pick up our intensity a little bit.’ And the girls just came out and responded,” she said. “I didn’t really say a whole lot to them to get them fired up.”

The Lady Lions broke on an 11-4 run late in the third to trim Lincoln’s lead to nine. Smith converted on a three-point play and had two field

Smith, who set out last season with an injury, has become a key player for the Lady Lions and led her team with 18 points and six rebounds Tuesday.

“I’m happy she’s able to be back and healthy for them. You just don’t like to see her score that many points when you’re on the opposing side,” McWhorter said. “But she’s a good player and it’s tough to guard her inside.”

Both teams shot well from the field, with Lincoln connecting on 26 of 51 shot attempts and Garrard going 17-for-35. At the line, Lincoln was 6-for-7 and Garrard, 10-for-16.

The teams were even on the boards with 21 rebounds. Fox and Spangler had four boards each for Lincoln. Napier had seven rebounds for Garrard, six offensive.

‘I’ve told her all year, ‘You’ve got beautiful shots. You knock it down. It’s got beautiful rotation ... She hit some big shots.’

ACCEPTING NEW PATIENTS

The Patriots had just nine turnovers to the Warriors’ 18.

“I’m proud of our kids for battling with them (Warriors) and making plays when they had to, and we took care of the ball,” said Jackson. “This was a good win, especially on Senior Night for Trenton and Micah and Autumn (Morgan-cheer-leader). It was a special night for them.”

A night that the Patriots now need to put behind them. “We’ll enjoy it tonight but we’ve got an incredible challenge with Danville coming in here for a big district game Friday night,” Jackson said. “This game is over. We have to come back to practice tomorrow and refocus on getting ready for Danville.”

EKU students, Bailey and Padgett, attend IPE

Six agriculture students at Eastern Kentucky University attended the 2012 International Poultry Exposition (IPE) in Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 24-26.

Students attending were Scott Benjamin, agribusiness management major from Bethel, Ohio; Michael Bailey, agriculture major from Stanford; Jennifer Bellaw, livestock production and dairy herd management major from Middletown, Ohio; Katie Goggin Banks, agribusiness management major from Danville; Nathaniel Keith, livestock production major from Berea; and Daniel Padgett, agribusiness management major from Waynesburg. They were accompanied by Dr. Ed Fredrickson of the EKU faculty.

While at the IPE, students had the opportunity to see the newest technology available to the poultry industry, network with other students and industry representatives, and interview for positions with several agricultural companies and organizations through the College Student Career Program.

Students participating in the College Student Career Program submit resumes that are distributed to companies participating in the program. Employers contact students and schedule interviews for positions or internships during the expo. Many EKU students have secured valuable internships or jobs through participation in the program.

IPE, the world's largest trade show for the poultry and egg industry, is also the primary source of funding for the U.S. Poultry and Egg Association, the world's largest and most active poultry organization. Membership includes producers and processors of broilers, turkeys, ducks, eggs, and breeding stock, as well as allied companies. Formed in 1947, the association has affiliations in 27 states and member companies worldwide and represents its poultry and egg members through research, education, communications and technical services. Funds earned at the Expo are funneled directly back into the industry in the form of research grants, educational programs, communications, and technical assistance.

USDA announces general CRP sign-up

Landowners, producers will have 4-week window to enroll

The Farm Service Agency (FSA) State Executive Director, John W. McCauley, announced that the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) will conduct a four-week Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) general sign-up. This CRP signup will begin on March 12, 2012 and end on April 6, 2012. CRP has a 25-year legacy of successfully protecting the nation's natural resources, while providing significant economic and environmental benefits to rural communities across the United States.

CRP is a voluntary program available to agricultural producers to help them use environmentally sensitive land for conservation benefits. Producers enrolled in CRP plant long-term, resource-conserving covers to improve the quality of water, control soil erosion and develop wildlife habitat. In return, USDA provides participants with rental payments and cost-share assistance. Contract duration is between 10 and 15 years. Producers with expiring contracts and producers with environmentally sensitive land are encouraged to evaluate their options under CRP. Producers also are encouraged to look into CRP's other enrollment opportunities offered on a continuous, non-competitive, signup basis.

Offers for CRP contracts are ranked according to the Environmental Benefits Index (EBI). USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) collects data for each of the EBI factors based on the relative environmental benefits for the land offered. Each eligible offer is ranked in comparison to all other offers and selections made from that ranking. FSA uses the following EBI factors to assess the environmental benefits for the land offered:

Wildlife habitat benefits resulting from covers on contract acreage;

Water quality benefits from reduced erosion, runoff and leaching;

On-farm benefits from reduced erosion;

Benefits that will likely endure beyond the contract period;

Air quality benefits from reduced wind erosion; and Cost. For more information on CRP and other FSA programs, visit a local FSA service center or go online at www.fsa.usda.gov.

Crab Orchard preschool students learn life lessons in Dramatic Play Center

The Dramatic Play Center in Ms. Karen's preschool room at Crab Orchard Elementary is like a stage. Children enter the area and immediately take on a new role and enact real-life experiences.

They use props and make-believe to deepen their understandings about the world. Initially the area is set up to look like a home with kitchen, bedroom and living room furnishings. To maintain interest and support them in extending the ideas, teachers regularly change the props and enhance the setting to incorporate children's new experiences. Ms. Karen and Ms. Lana extend the theme in the Center to situations like shopping at the grocery, visiting a doctor's office or camping out under the stars. They also talk with the children and participate in their play to extend their thinking.

Pretending is very important to a child's development, and children who know how to make-believe develop good vocabularies, which are important to reading. They learn to cooperate with others to solve problems, to recall and re-create experiences, which are also important to school success.

At home, families can simulate the same setting by allowing the children to set up their own pretend areas. A sheet thrown over a small table can create a tent, cave or some other cozy spot. Empty cereal boxes and sanitized plastic food containers offer the child the opportunity to play store. Used envelopes, paper, pencil and decorative stamps are all that's necessary to create a post office.

When teachers, parents and other family members engage in pretend play, they are teaching important skills and strengthening the relationships that are the foundation of learning.
